Sunday School Christmas Breakfast

Sunday, December 8, 9 - 10 AM in Fellowship Hall
There will not be classes that day.

Dear Loris First Baptist Church,

I want to take a moment to express my gratitude for how Southern Baptist churches collaborate to support missions worldwide. Through the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering (LMCO), the International Mission Board (IMB) supports me and my family as we carry out God's call to take the gospel to the nations.

This is not new. In the late 1700s, just at the start of the modern missionary movement, two friends, William Carey and Andrew Fuller, talked about how some are called to go and minister cross-culturally while others are called to support missions through prayer and giving. Carey famously told Fuller, "I will go down into the pit, if you will hold the ropes."

Today, around 3,500 missionaries serve through the IMB, and the Lottie Moon Christmas offering is one of the many ways Southern Baptists collectively "hold the ropes."

As I share the gospel with people where I live, I recognize this would be impossible without the generous giving and fervent prayers of churches like yours. While I am called to live cross-culturally, the gifts of so many others support me and all our missionaries in practical and personal ways, like a place to live, transportation, and care for my family.

Even more, every gospel witness, every Bible given, every life transformed, every disciple made, every church planted, and every leader developed – is done together. I could not go down to the pit without churches like yours holding the rope.

Stories like this are not possible without your partnership! If you're interested, here are three resources you can use with your church this Christmas season:

1. A video that helps illustrate the reality of lostness <https://vimeo.com/838674277>
2. A prayer guide to use for the Week of Prayer December 1-8, 2024, at <https://lottimoon.com>
3. Posters, banners, and other promotional materials at <https://lottimoon.com>

Let me know if your church is interested in setting up a call to hear more about our work.

Thank you for your ongoing commitment to the gospel!

Peter and Tia
